A Gentleman Unafraid

BY RICHARD LINTHICUM.

In praise of one whose race is run, Prince of the Great-heart Blood.
His clean, white soul, in sight of goal, with the life tide at its flood,
Stood forth as they called a Noble's name at the Court of the King of Kings,
And he, who knew the hearts of men, now knoweth
the heart of things.
Loving all men as brothers, and with reverent love for God,
Silently bearing the sting of thorns that lay in the path
he trod;
Praising aloud the flowers, in their summer garbs
arrayed,
'Mid the earth's elect he walked erect—a gentleman
unafraid.

If a fair intent and toil well spent shall win us the Master's praise,
If a faith serene in a force unseen shall bless all our future days,
He shall take no fear of the Mystery wove in the loom of Death
But bare his brow in the grateful cool of eternal morn-ing's breath.
He shall take his place at the judgment seat and the Judge shall judge him true,
And the good that he did shall not outweigh the good that he strove to do.
If the saving plan be indeed God's truth, and rewards
be not delayed,
He stands in the white, throne-beating light—a gentleman unafraid.

Poem read by President Thomas W. Churchill of the Board of Education of Greater New York at a special memorial meeting of the Board, September 30, 1914.

The Fragrance of Friendship

In Loving Memory of James E. Sullivan Founder and Leader of the Amateur Athletic Union

Green be the turf above thee,
Friend of our better days!
None knew thee but to love thee,
Nor named thee but to praise.

The strong, glad heart, vibrant with the harmony of mighty hope, is silent, and JAMES E. SULLIVAN, after a life of immeasurable benefit to humanity, sleeps well.

Devoted leader of a noble cause, the hand of fame has graved his name and deeds high and clear on the golden shield of time, there to flash out inspiration of hope and courage to other brave souls who seek the pilgrim's staff of service on the field of honor.

In the spirit of personal affection—the ties of which bind our souls together forever—and in deep appreciation of his great labor of love—fragrant with nobility of character and rich in achievement, his comrades of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, kneel in fervent tribute at the altar of memory:

With silence only as their benediction,
God's Angels come
Where in the shadow of a great affliction,
The soul sits dumb!

To the dear helpmate and children, we tenderly bear our message of sympathy and hope—that blessed hope which builds a bridge even across the wide gulf of sorrow.

He is just away!
With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand,
He has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair,
It needs must be, since he lingers there,
And you—oh, you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return—
Think of him faring on as dear
In the love of there, as the love of here.

His never failing response to the call of duty well done, is now written in heaven; while the path of life which he so signally honored by his great work, is glorious with the prowess of sturdy youth and courage of stalwart manhood.

Thus he lives in the hearts of all who knew and loved him well; for no true and permanent fame can be founded except in labor which promotes the happiness of God's creatures.

And still on that evening when Pleasure fills up
To the highest top sparkle each heart and each cup,
Where'er my path lies, be it gloomy or bright,
My soul, happy friends, will be with you that night;
Shall join in your revels, your sports and your wiles,
And return to me, beaming all o'er with your smiles—
Too blest if it tells me that 'mid the gay cheer,
Some kind voice has murmured, "I wish he were here."

(From resolutions adopted by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States at the annual meeting, held in New York, November 16, 1914.

James E. Sullivan

James E. Sullivan was born in New York City and educated in the public schools. He entered the publishing house of Frank Leslie in 1878, and after the death of Mr. Frank Leslie continued with Mrs. Leslie, being connected with the business office and editorial department. In the early '80s he conducted an athletic department in Frank Leslie's "Boys' and Girls' Weekly," which was the first athletic department ever instituted in a home weekly paper, and also contributed athletics to the New York "Sun." In 1889 Mr. Sullivan resigned from Mrs. Frank Leslie's publishing house to become business manager and editor of the New York "Sporting Times," and two years later purchased the paper. In 1892 Mr. Sullivan founded the American Sports Publishing Company and was its president continuously to his death. The pressure of the publishing business eventually compelled Mr. Sullivan to discontinue the "Sporting Times," but he found time to edit and write a number of handbooks on athletic subjects.

Mr. Sullivan started his athletic career in 1877, joining the Pastime Athletic Club in 1878. He continued his athletic career up to 1884, during which period he won the all-around championship of the Pastime Athletic Club in 1880 and 1881, including a twenty-five mile walk, three-hour run, one-hour run, running, walking and jumping, and finished second in Canadian half-mile championship in 1884. In 1885 Mr. Sullivan was elected president of the Pastime Athletic Club and was its delegate to the National Association of Amateur Athletes for several years and vice-president of the latter organization in 1886 and 1887. He was one of the organizers of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States and was active as a member of the board of governors from its organization until his death. In 1889 Mr. Sullivan was elected secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union and held the office continuously, with the exception of 1906-1909, in which years he served as president. He was president of the Metropolitan Association of the Amateur Athletic Union for nearly a quarter of a century, and had officiated in some capacity in connection with American amateur championship track and field games during the same period, having also had the distinction of having attended every A.A.U. championship meeting in America since 1887, and officiated at the Intercollegiate A.A.A.A. track and field annual championships, as judge or referee, for the past twenty years.

The extent of Mr. Sullivan's activities was not confined, however, to merely being a perfunctory official at games or in an executive capacity. He had a genius for organization and an almost prophetic vision of the needs of recreation for the thousands of school children and youths in our large cities, and to his tireless efforts in their behalf is undoubtedly due the magnitude and success of the playground movement and organized recreation in the public schools. It was Mr. Sullivan who suggested to Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick the formation of the Public Schools Athletic League, and he was a member of its executive committee and chairman of its games committee. He was one of the organizers of the Outdoor Recreation League of New York, and its second president. With Commissioner Charles B. Stover and others, he opened the first public playground and gymnasium in New York City in 1898, and at the time of his death was president of the public recreation commission.

In civic matters Mr. Sullivan held a number of honorary positions, being appointed a member of the Board of Education by Mayor McClellan in 1908 and reappointed by Mayor Gaynor in 1912, for a full term of five years. Mayor Gaynor also appointed him as president of the Public Recreation Commission, as a member of the special committee to receive President Roosevelt upon his return from Africa in 1909, as a member of a special committee to investigate the Board of City Record, and also as chairman each year of the games committee of the Safe and Sane Fourth of July celebrations inaugurated by the Mayor in 1910.

Mr. Sullivan's remarkable capacity for organization and direction of large competitions caused him to be invariably selected by the authorities of the several large expositions held in the United States in recent years to direct the athletic activities of such affairs. In such a capacity he served as assistant American director to the Olympic Games of 1900 at Paris, France; director of the Pan-American Exposition athletic department in 1901; chief of the department of physical culture at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis in 1904; honorary director of athletics at the Jamestown Exposition, 1907; director of athletics at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, 1915, the full details of the latter being carried out on the plans decided upon by Mr. Sullivan before his death.

Mr. Sullivan's fame in athletics was international, and his appointments to the various Olympic Games as American director were universally recognized as being most fitting and representative. He was appointed by President Roosevelt Special Commissioner to the Olympic Games at Athens, Greece, in 1906, and decorated by King George I of Greece with the Golden Cross of the Knights of the Royal Order of the Saviour for his services in connection with the Olympic Games. In 1908 he was again appointed by President Roosevelt as Special Commissioner to the Olympic Games at London, and in 1912 appointed to the same position by President Taft to the Olympic Games at Stockholm, Sweden, receiving a decoration in 1913 from King Gustave of Sweden of the Knight of the Royal Order of Wasa, and from the Imperial German Olympic Commission the German Olympic decoration of the Golden Eagle, the highest athletic decoration of Germany. In recognition of his services as director of the Olympic Games at the St. Louis Exposition, in 1904, the International Olympic Committee, which has, since 1898, presented fourteen Olympic medals to representatives of different nations, conferred that honor upon him, the late President McKinley being the only other American thus honored.

Mr. Sullivan was secretary of the American Olympic Committees of 1906, 1908, 1912 and for the Olympic Games of 1916, scheduled to be held in Berlin. At the International Amateur Athletic Federation Congress, at Berlin, 1913, he was elected to the Council and made chairman of the rules committee of the world, which adopted and promulgated a governing code of rules for Olympic Games at the meetings held in Lyons, France, and Paris, France, in 1914, in which Mr. Sullivan took a leading part.

The death of Mr. Sullivan, which occurred after a few days' illness, on September 16, 1914, occasioned the most profound regret wherever athletics are known, messages of condolence coming from every part of the civilized world to his bereaved family, while the various bodies with which he had been connected adopted resolutions and were represented at the funeral. A special guard of honor, consisting of champion athletes of the Public Schools Athletic League, led by General Wingate, President of the Public Schools Athletic League, and Dr. C. Ward Crampton, preceded the hearse, while thousands of school children stood "at attention" along the route of the procession from the house to the church where the funeral services were held.

A. A. U.

National Championships

All A. A. U. national championships will be held this year at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco.

COMPETITORS, OFFICIALS AND VISITORS

are cordially invited to make their headquarters at A. G. Spalding & Bros.' store, 156-158 Geary Street, San Francisco, where every attention will be paid to their requirements.

An Information Bureau has also been established, where inquiries from prospective visitors will be cheerfully answered.

The above invitation applies also to Spalding stores in Los Angeles, Portland and Seattle, and in fact in all cities en route where A. G. Spalding & Bros. have stores (see list on inside front cover).

THE GRAND PRIX

PARIS, 1900

At the Universal Exposition, Paris, 1900, A. G. Spalding & Bros. were awarded the Grand Prize for the finest and most complete line of Athletic Goods, in competition with the leading makers of the world.

At the Louisiana Purchase Exposition St. Louis, 1904

A. G. Spalding & Bros. received a Special Award (superior to the Grand Prize), consisting of a Gold Medal, for the best exhibit of Athletic Supplies exhibited at the World's Fair.

A. G. Spalding & Bros. were also awarded by the Superior Jury a Grand Prize for their exhibit of all kinds of Athletic Implements and Athletic Wearing Apparel.

At the Pan-American Exposition, 1901

Spalding's Athletic Goods were exclusively used in all athletic competitions.

A. G. Spalding & Bros., the largest manufacturers in the world of athletic goods, cordially invite all European athletes and directors of athletics to visit their shops and factories in London, Birmingham, Manchester, Glasgow and Edinburgh when visiting Great Britain. A. G. Spalding & Bros., being in close touch with the growth of athletics in America for forty years, are in a position to offer every facility for information on any branch of athletics. If you want to know how to train, how to build an athletic track, what the record is for any athletic event, what to use for any sport, the official rules for any sport, how to lay out a playground or construct a gymnasium, a request to them will bring a reply with the opinions of the most reliable experts in their particular lines. Do not hesitate to write for any athletic information.

SPALDING VAULTING POLES

SPECIAL NOTE—It is our endeavor always to supply Athletic Equipment of the very highest quality, and which is at the same time made of the most satisfactory material and in the best possible manner for the purpose intended.

We have discontinued making Spruce Vaulting Poles because we find ourselves unable to recommend their use, owing to danger of breakage and possibility of serious injury to user. Bamboo poles we do recommend, having proven to our satisfaction that they are superior for vaulting to poles made of any wood we know of, and, furthermore, if they do break while in use, the danger of personal injury is very remote.

Spalding Bamboo Vaulting Poles

INDOOR AND OUTDOOR STYLES

Owing to differences in climatic conditions it is impossible to keep Bamboo Vaulting Poles from cracking. These cracks or season checks do not appreciably detract from the merits of the poles, except where they are continuous. Much of the real strength of the pole is in the joints. All of our tests would seem to prove that poles with season checks may be accepted as safe and durable, except where the season check is wide open and extends through several sections on one side. Very frequently such splits or season checks can be entirely closed by placing the pole in a damp place for a day or so.

The Spalding Official Basket Ball

THE ONLY OFFICIAL BASKET BALL

WE GUARANTEE this ball to be perfect in material and workmanship and correct in shape and size when inspected at our factory. If any defect is discovered during the first game in which it is used, or during the first day's practice use, and, if returned at once, we will replace same under this guarantee. We do not guarantee against ordinary wear nor against defect in shape or size that is not discovered immediately after the first day's use.

Owing to the superb quality of our No. M Basket Ball, our customers have grown to expect a season's use of one ball, and at times make unreasonable claims under our guarantee, which we will not allow.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

OFFICIALLY ADOPTED AND STANDARD. The cover is made in four sections, with capless ends, and of the finest and most carefully selected pebble grain English leather. We take the entire output of this superior grade of leather from the English tanners, and in the Official Basket Ball use the choicest parts of each hide. Extra heavy bladder made especially for this ball of extra quality pure Para rubber (not compounded). Each ball packed complete, in sealed box, with rawhide lace and lacing needle, and guaranteed perfect in every detail. To provide that all official contests may be held under absolutely fair and uniform conditions, it is stipulated that this ball must be used in all match games of either men's or women's teams.

Standard Policy

A Standard Quality must be inseparably linked to a Standard Policy. Without a definite and Standard Mercantile Policy, it is impossible for a Manufacturer to long maintain a Standard Quality.

To market his goods through the jobber, a manufacturer must provide a profit for the jobber as well as for the retail dealer. To meet these conditions of Dual Profits, the manufacturer is obliged to set a proportionately high list price on his goods to the consumer.

To enable the glib salesman, when booking his orders, to figure out attractive profits to both the jobber and retailer, these high list prices are absolutely essential; but their real purpose will have been served when the manufacturer has secured his order from the jobber, and the jobber has secured his order from the retailer.

However, these deceptive high list prices are not fair to the consumer, who does not, and, in reality, is not ever expected to pay these fancy list prices.

When the season opens for the sale of such goods, with their misleading but alluring high list prices, the retailer begins to realize his responsibilities, and grapples with the situation as best he can, by offering "special discounts," which vary with local trade conditions.

Under this system of merchandising, the profits to both the manufacturer and the jobber are assured; but as there is no stability maintained in the prices to the consumer, the keen competition amongst the local dealers invariably leads to a demoralized cutting of prices by which the profits of the retailer are practically eliminated.

This demoralization always reacts on the manufacturer. The jobber insists on lower, and still lower, prices. The manufacturer, in his turn, meets this demand for the lowering of prices by the only way open to him, viz.: the cheapening and degrading of the quality of his product.

The foregoing conditions became so intolerable that 15 years ago, in 1899, A. G. Spalding & Bros. determined to rectify this demoralization in the Athletic Goods Trade, and inaugurated what has since become known as "The Spalding Policy."

The "Spalding Policy" eliminates the jobber entirely, so far as Spalding Goods are concerned, and the retail dealer secures the supply of Spalding Athletic Goods direct from the manufacturer by which the retail dealer is assured a fair, legitimate and certain profit on all Spalding Athletic Goods, and the consumer is assured a Standard Quality and is protected from imposition.

The "Spalding Policy" is decidedly for the interest and protection of the users of Athletic Goods, and acts in two ways:

First.—The user is assured of genuine Official Standard Athletic Goods.

Second.—As manufacturers, we can proceed with confidence in purchasing at the proper time, the very best raw materials required in the manufacture of our various goods, well ahead of their respective seasons, and this enables us to provide the necessary quantity and absolutely maintain the Spalding Standard of Quality.

All retail dealers handling Spalding Athletic Goods are requested to supply consumers at our regular printed catalogue prices—neither more nor less—the same prices that similar goods are sold for in our New York, Chicago and other stores.

All Spalding dealers, as well as users of Spalding Athletic Goods, are treated exactly alike, and no special rebates or discriminations are allowed to anyone.

This briefly, is the "Spalding Policy," which has already been in successful operation for the past 15 years, and will be indefinitely continued.

In other words, "The Spalding Policy" is a "square deal" for everybody.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

By A. G. Spalding.
PRESIDENT.

Standard Quality

An article that is universally given the appellation "Standard" is thereby conceded to be the criterion, to which are compared all other things of a similar nature. For instance, the Gold Dollar of the United States is the Standard unit of currency, because it must legally contain a specific proportion of pure gold, and the fact of its being Genuine is guaranteed by the Government Stamp thereon. As a protection to the users of this currency against counterfeiting and other tricks, considerable money is expended in maintaining a Secret Service Bureau of Experts. Under the law, citizen manufacturers must depend to a great extent upon Trade-Marks and similar devices to protect themselves against counterfeit products—without the aid of "Government Detectives" or "Public Opinion" to assist them.

Consequently the "Consumer's Protection" against misrepresentation and "inferior quality" rests entirely upon the integrity and responsibility of the "Manufacturer."

A. G. Spalding & Bros. have, by their rigorous attention to "Quality," for thirty-eight years, caused their Trade-Mark to become known throughout the world as a Guarantee of Quality as dependable in their field as the U. S. Currency is in its field.

The necessity of upholding the Guarantee of the Spalding Trade-Mark and maintaining the Standard Quality of their Athletic Goods, is, therefore, as obvious as is the necessity of the Government in maintaining a Standard Currency.

Thus each consumer is not only insuring himself but also protecting other consumers when he assists a Reliable Manufacturer in upholding his Trade-Mark and all that it stands for. Therefore, we urge all users of our Athletic Goods to assist us in maintaining the Spalding Standard of Excellence, by insisting that our Trade-Mark be plainly stamped on all athletic goods which they buy, because without this precaution our best efforts towards maintaining Standard Quality and preventing fraudulent substitution will be ineffectual.

Manufacturers of Standard Articles invariably suffer the reputation of being high-priced, and this sentiment is fostered and emphasized by makers of "inferior goods," with whom low prices are the main consideration.

A manufacturer of recognized Standard Goods, with a reputation to uphold and a guarantee to protect must necessarily have higher prices than a manufacturer of cheap goods, whose idea of and basis of a claim for Standard Quality depends principally upon the eloquence of the salesman.

We know from experience that there is no quicksand more unstable than poverty in quality—and we avoid this quicksand by Standard Quality.
